ONE YEAR AGO

From the files of The Courier-Gazette we learn that:—

Fire destroyed Walter Lowe's dairy barn on Middle street Heights and caused other damage, the total loss being about $10,000.

Charles Allen, who had been keeper of Doubting Point, succeeded Edward H. Pierce as keeper at Marshall's Point Light.

J. T. Robishaw was installed as president of Knox Aerie of Eagles.

Goods to the value of $50 were stolen from Shapiro's store on Tillson avenue.

Charles E. Woodcock of Waterville, Conn., publicly commended Deputy Sheriffs Ludwick and Poland for the manner in which they cleared up the Friendship cottage robberies.

ROCKLAND GETS CONVENTION

American Legion Coming Here In Full Force Next June—The Bangor Show

The brave battle which Winslow-Holbrook Post has been waging to secure the 1935 State convention for Rockland was crowned with success.

Col. Basil H. Stinson, who was elected a member of the National Executive Committee and whose brief appeal in behalf of Rockland as the next convention city was rewarded with success.

yesterday afternoon when the delegates at Bangor wisely concluded to come to the Limerock City. Lewiston was a lively candidate for the honor, but the majority of the delegates felt that the logical place was Rockland, the home city of the State's No. 1 Post. The other Knox County posts worked hard to that end, and shared in the triumph. What it means to this city may be judged from the fact that there were more than 2000 Legionnaires in Bangor during this week's convention and, nearly 30,000 persons saw Tuesday's wonderful parade. It is going to mean a tremendous amount of work but Winslow-Holbrook Post's middle name is Work.

Herbert L. Bean of Bethel was elected department commander and Mrs. Grace A. Stien of Woodford was elected State Auxiliary, president on the fourth ballot.

Col. Basil H. Stinson of Rockland was elected national executive committee member. Dr. C. M. Stephenson was named department vice commander for Knox, Lincoln and Sagadahoc Counties. Hector G. Staples of Rockland was named as one of the representatives on the executive committee.

National Commander Hayes scored the National Economy's "$15,000-a-year propagandist, whose paid objective seems to be to destroy the respect and love the American people always have shown to those who served them with honor in their greatest peril. Back of this organization is the group of people with enormous incomes, who seek to throw the burden of care for our Nation's defenders upon local communities, the local taxpayers who provide charity treatment, porches and jails for wrecked humanity."

Resolutions passed endorse the four-point program adopted at the National Convention in Chicago last Oct. 5; maintain the policy of the American people that the care and treatment of war veterans is the responsibility of the Federal Government; and call upon the people of Maine to ascertain for themselves facts about program of the American Legion and to seek reliable information about federal laws affecting veterans.

There were nearly 3000 persons in the parade Tuesday, including bands and 26 drum and bugle corps. Biddeford retained the State title in the drum corps contest. Winslow-Holbrook Post and Drum Corps got great applause all along the line of march. Shore dinner was served at Bass Park.

INVADING THE NORTHLAND

Where Every Farm Has Its Potato House— Seeing New Brunswick In Slumber Time

(By the Roving Reporter—Third Installment)

Once across the New Brunswick border the motorist finds himself traversing a fine system of gravel roads, a bit dusty perhaps, but quite devoid of the washboard effect which takes all the joy out of gravel roads. But we were not bothered by dust for the very good reason that the hour was so early that the Sabbath traffic had not come into being. Looking back over it I cannot recall that Gonia and I saw a New Brunswick motor car in our trip down the St. John's valley from Perth to Woodstock.

We passed through Upper Kent, Beechwood and Bath—yes, here's Bath, looking not at all like our busy Maine city where they build record-breaking warships. The town has rather a conspicuous World War memorial, but I do not remember much else we saw there for the simple reason that we were making a vain quest for some place where the protesting inner man might be served. Bristol seemed to offer some hope, but the sleepy eyed man who responded to our knock said that the fire had just been started. So on we go—Florenceville, Stickney (where stand the ruins of a church), and Peel. High up on the banks of the river are hundreds of cords of pulpwood left some time when the current had been swollen by the spring freshets. "O! Man river."

Those Checkerboard Warnings
Frequently we saw "Red Rose Tea" advertised, and it has been my experience in the Maritimes to find that the word "Rose" is very popular.

Next stop Hartland, which looks as much different from our Maine Hartland as New Brunswick's Bath looks like the city on the Kennebec.

We crossed and re-crossed the winding track of the Canadian National Railways and always before

LIBERAL BEQUESTS MADE

In Will Of Mrs. J. M. Baldrige—Mr. Soffayer and Miss Fields Get $50,000 Each

The will of the late Mrs. J. M. Baldrige filed at the Knox County Registry of Probate yesterday contains personal bequests of an exceptional nature.

To Joseph Soffayer, who has been Mrs. Baldrige's chauffeur for a number of years, goes the sum of $50,000.

To Miss Carrie Fields who has been her secretary, the sum of $50,000 is also bequeathed.

Herbert N. Brazier of Rockport, named as a personal friend of the family gets $25,000; and Edward B. Hall, caretaker $10,000.

The minor bequests were: To Catherine Riddon and Ann Holmstrom, maids and house servants, $1000 each; to Nellie Moynahan, Gullie Lund and Annie Person, maids and house servants, $2000 each. The proviso was made that these persons must have been in Mrs. Baldrige's employ at the time of her death. William Young and Myron Young, who had charge of Mrs. Baldrige's motor boat "Duchess," receive $1000 each, and the boat itself goes to Dudley and Paul Rochester, grandchildren of the deceased.

In regard to Gwendolene F. Rochester, Dudley F. Wolfe and Clifford Smith, children of the deceased by their first marriage, the will says: "In addition to the ample means they now enjoy, their annual income will then be increased to an amount about equal to the entire bequests in this will."

The will was drawn May 25, 1934, and was signed by Christopher S. Roberts, Faustina Roberts and Juliette B. Cross.

Miss Carrie Fields is named executor.

THE MARBLEHEAD'S VISIT

A Little Conflict Of Authority Arises As To a Proscribed Zone

The light cruiser Marblehead, 7500 tons displacement, and carrying at the present 892 men, has become a familiar object in Rockland harbor, and its officers and men are enjoying shore liberty, apparently as much as Rockland people enjoy having them.

A question of diplomacy appears to have arisen. Following the usual custom Captain Washburn sent a landing party ashore with patrol for a conference with the police department, and was informed by the officials in charge that there would be no likelihood of trouble if the men were kept from the district known locally as "The Point." And Captain Washburn immediately issued an order to that effect. He expresses astonishment at receiving next day a telegram from Representative Moran stating that the exclusion of The Point was an affront to the business men and citizens. Captain Washburn's position is that when the mayor and chief of police concur the suggestion made to him

Sunday he will rescind the order. Not before.

The cruiser has its newspaper staff, and evidently an efficient one, if we judge from the sample issues of The Marblehead Light furnished to this paper.

The cover of the June 2 issue is a map of Manhattan made evidently for the convenience of the officers and men when the Marblehead visited that port for the Presidential review. The baseball team (which plays The Collegians at Community Park tonight) is evidently the pride of the ship and making good record. After leaving this port on the morning of July 5, the Marblehead will proceed to Boston, but only for a short stay while ammunition is being taken on, then proceeds to Newport R. I.—The Light is edited by Chaplain Vogler with Lieut. Dietrich as sports editor and W. T. Hudson art editor.

The men of the cruiser Marblehead swear by their "skipper," who is Captain E. D. Washburn, Jr., a classmate of Commander Douglas W. Fuller, now at this port on leave. Commander J. W. Bankley is executive officer. Other officers found on the ship's roster are Lieut. Commanders L. D. McCormick, C. E. Eason, C. B. Hunt and H. F. McGee, Lieutenants J. B. Goode, H. T. Walsh and N. K. Dietrich, Lieutenants (J. G.) S. G. Kelley, A. W. Wheelock, M. D. Sylvester, C. B. Beasley, A. R. Truslow, Jr., D. B. Brokenshire, G. W. Peott, Jr., Ensigns C. E. Mott, A. E. Stafford, E. P. Finney, Jr., R. N. Sargent, Jr., and C. E. Robertson.

Lieut. Commander J. A. Peres is medical officer, Lieut. (J. G.) E. A. Thomas dental officer, Lieut. Commander R. L. Walford supply officer, Lieut. (Ch. C.) A. deGogler chaplain and Lieut. (S. C.) O. F. Byrd is a member of the staff.

Col. Basil H. Stinson, Earle McIntosh, Edward R. Vezie and Levi Flint visited the ship this forenoon and officially paid the respects of Winslow-Holbrook Post.

STAGE TO KNOW HER AGAIN

Annie Russell, Favorite Dramatic Star, Summering at Rockport, To Appear Next Season in "The Rivals"—Inter- viewed by The Courier-Gazette

(BY F. A. WINSLOW)

Concluded from Tuesday Issue

"Shakespeare was much better received early in the Twentieth century," Miss Russell told me. "More persons were reading and studying his plays before the country became gorged with wealth. Later their preference was for light entertainment."

"There is not a part in 'Midsummer Night's Dream' big enough for a star. I played 'Puck' because I saw a lovely kind of opportunity for whimsicality and the carrying out of the old English idea of fairies. I had never seen it played as I thought it should be. He had always been a pretty little creature in lights, but the almost malevolent humor of Shakespeare was not carried out. It was always too pretty pretty."

"I dressed differently for the part wearing fur skins made to match the color of the tree trunks. At Pemaquid Harbor, where I had a summer home I studied the action of woody animals. I used to watch the hares and various little animals of the woods—sometimes the deer. All the hints thus gained I incorporated in my role of 'Puck.' And in portraying that role, I ran, walked or leaped. It seemed to go wonderfully well."

She Loved "Viola"

I interrupted at this point long enough to ask Miss Russell if she knew how many parts she had taken in the theatrical profession.

"Mercy, no!" she exclaimed. "I never counted them, and I never even kept the programs. In this connection I read a program in a New York newspaper recently, mentioning the name of Helen Menken who played the role of 'Queen Elizabeth.' A footnote stated that this actress began her career with Annie Russell in 'Midsummer Night's Dream.'"

"What was your favorite role?" I asked.

"All of them" was the prompt and unexpected reply. "But I loved Viola in 'Twelfth Night.'"

Concluding her engagement with 'Twelfth Night' Miss Russell became afflicted with ill health, and remained at her home in Short Hills, N. J., for one year.

"I should have stopped while I was playing in 'Midsummer Night's Dream,'" Miss Russell told me, "but the managers were involved with such a terrific expense that I didn't like to let them down."

"I forgot to say that before I appeared in 'Midsummer Night's Dream' I appeared for a short time in a play which the late Cyrus H. K. Curtis loved so well. It was called 'Fair Hannah Lightfoot,' and did not succeed because the public thought it was too sad."

A Short Lived Venture

Returning to the stage after her year's absence Miss Russell presented 'The Stronger Sex' in New York and en tour.

In 1910 Miss Russell joined The New Theatre Company which was organized with the ambitious design of becoming "the" great American stock company, and which had the backing of J. Pierpont Morgan and other men of financial calibre. It had very high ideals and wonderful equipment for production. There were two companies, which alternated in their duties—one playing while the other was producing. "There was a host of stars," says Miss Russell, "so enamored of the idea of greatness that they became members instead of stars."

The New Theatre Company presented the classics and modern plays, each play superbly cast. But the commercial theatre was very much afraid of the result of a millionaire-supported company, and a concerted attack was made by the press and the commercial managers on anything it did. With the result that in two years that new company passed out of the picture.

"Cheer Up, Miss Russell!"

From 1912 to 1914 Miss Russell presented her own company in old English comedies—"Much Ado About Nothing," "The Rivals," "She Stoops To Conquer," "School For Scandal," "The Lady in the Case," and "His Royal Happiness." Playing in New York and en tour the company was enjoying a good measure of success when the upheaval in Europe begun, and many nations were plunged into war.

With it came the cessation of Miss Russell's theatrical enterprise, and like many other patriotic stage women she engaged in war work.

Among other things which she did was to put on a Doughboys' theatre for the Stage Woman's War Relief in Grand Central Palace, New York, which was then a debarcation hospital, No. 5. Many a stout heart quailed at the scenes of misery therein.

"On the opening night," says Miss Russell, "I found myself overwhelmed with emotion as I looked down upon the audience and saw so many wounded and bandaged soldiers, who had come back from the war zone. One of these poor bandaged creatures, with only one eye visible, sensed my emotion as I stood there speechless, and in a loud voice called, 'Cheer up, Miss Russell!'"

Interrupted War Work

"I went on with my speech, and at the conclusion of it went through the hospital accompanied by military notables. I was in evening dress, and contracted a frightful cold. Two days later I was in the hands of a doctor, with two nurses attending, and it was many a long day before I re-engaged in war work."

"In 1917 I was playing 'The Thirteenth Chair' for a starring engagement in Chicago. The entry of the United States into the World War stopped this, for the scenery cars had been commandeered. Taken down with a second attack of influenza I went to my home in Short Hills from Washington where the last performance had been given. I have never played professionally from that day."

After a stay of five or six years in Short Hills Miss Russell went to St. Petersburg, Fla., disposing of her New Jersey home and buying a place in "St. Pete" with the view to becoming a permanent resident there. But five years later she transferred her affections to Winter Park, Fla., where the winter season finds her most happily located and where the Annie Russell Theatre built by Mrs. Bok in her honor serves as a daily reminder of a life which has been fruitful with distinguishing achievements.

Bret Harte's "Sue"

"What do you consider your greatest stage success?" I asked Miss Russell.

"Bret Harte's famous play 'Sue' in which I appeared at Garrick's Theatre in London. All London came to this play and even royalty wanted to see the young American girl who was being hailed in the press as having made such a tremendous success. 'The Duse of the English speaking stage' they were kind enough to call me."

Among those who came to pay their respects to Miss Russell during her four months' stay at Garrick's were the Prince of Wales and other members of the Royal Family, and she received letters from notable English dramatists, actors and persons in political life. She was overwhelmed with social attentions.

"Whom do you consider the greatest of the modern theatrical stars?" "I am a great admirer of Duse, the Italian actress," replied Miss Russell. "And naturally at the head of the list would be Sara Bernhardt and Ellen Terry."

"Will the spoken drama come back to its own?"

"It is back now! You wouldn't have your present talking pictures if it were not for the legitimate stage."

Start of a Great Friendship

"How did your acquaintance with Mrs. Bok come about?"

At this question Miss Russell smiled happily.

"I have known her 35 years," she said, "and there is a pretty little story connected with the introduction."

"Mr. Bok in his capacity as editor of the Ladies Home Journal had come to me frequently for newspaper interviews. One day he asked the privilege of bringing a charming little friend to see me. Of course I promptly assented, and thus I met Louise Curtis, who was then attending Ogontz School in Pennsylvania. She indeed was charming as her future husband had said, and the day marked the beginning of the dearest friendship I have ever established. Every time I played in Philadelphia I was with her, and in the summer time I saw much of her at Pemaquid and Camden. Our friendship just grew more and more perfect."

Editor Bok induced Miss Russell to contribute a series of stage articles for the Ladies Home Journal and seven or eight were furnished.

Dressed Like a Lady

I asked Miss Russell in regard to the published statement that she was regarded as the best dressed woman on the stage. "Yes," she admitted, "they did call me that; said that I dressed like a lady, not an actress." Henri Bendel, the most fashionable dressmaker in New York was responsible for the creations Miss Russell wore in presenting her varied roles, and could his description be published it would make a story which I am sure would thrill the feminine portion of the world, at least.

Interwoven into these latest years of Annie Russell's life is the story of Rollins College, Florida's oldest institution of higher learning, under the leadership of President Hamilton Holt, widely recognized as an authority on questions of international relations and world peace. To the notable structures which are seen on the college grounds Mrs. Bok gave the Annie Russell Theatre, "in honor of my lifelong friend." Miss Russell is artistic director of the theatre and has personal supervision of everything done there. The college has a very strong dramatic department and produces six student plays. The theatre has been in operation two full seasons.

The Annie Russell Theatre

The dedication of the Annie Russell Theatre took place in March, 1932, Miss Russell playing the Queen in Robert Browning's "In a Balcony." She was supported by Rolfe Peters as "Norbert" and Mary Howe as "Constance."

Rollins College has about 500 students, an excellent faculty and a new system of education. According to Miss Russell the student is more apt to interrogate the professor than the professor is apt to ask the student. Be that as it may Rollins College, "stands for freedom in education; for student control; for maximum gain in responsibility to classmates and self." It has its symphony orchestra, and most of the college activities are conducted in the open air.

Under the direction of Miss Russell there is a professional artists' series. Last year the students were privileged to hear Josef Hofmann, Mme. Sundelius, Mme. Luboschutz and the Curtis String Quartet. With advanced students and members of the faculty comprising the cast, Miss Russell produced a play—Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler."

Miss Russell has been coming to Rockport three seasons. "I shall stay," she told me in parting, "until the end of September, near my beloved friends—Mrs. Bok and the others."

THE CAMPERS ARE COMING

Freed from their schoolbooks and with a whole summer of fun ahead of them, nearly 10,000 happy boys and girls began pouring into Northern New England summer resorts over the lines of the Boston & Maine Railroad and the Maine Central Railroad today.

"The Army of Young America," will this year, number some 2,000 to 2,500 more than last year, according to tabulations of Boston & Maine and Maine Central officials. This year the operating departments of the two roads have already set up 15 special trains, 264 sleeping cars, 25 parlor cars, and 61 special coaches to handle the camp-bound girls and boys. Last year the throng numbered between 7,000 and 7,500 and a dozen special "all-camp" trains, with 212 sleeping cars handled the rush. Beaver Camp was due to arrive this morning, and the Huffed Camp girls are scheduled to be at Union Saturday.

AUTHORITY ON MAINE GOLFING

Harry Webber's "Golf in Maine" now appears in its fifth successive year. (see quote from its foreword) revised to date and bringing you much information concerning tournaments, etc., and the nearly one hundred golf courses which dot the Old Pine Tree State. Not only much information, but authentic in its detail and imparting to the reader the conviction that Maine is fully abreast of the times with respect to the great national sport and equipped to meet the requirements of the yearly increasing tides of holiday visitors. And every such visitor should have a copy of the neat little brochure, which will be mailed upon request by the Maine Publicity Bureau, which the reader should address at Portland. The two local courses, Rockland Country Club and The Samoset are of course fully listed among the hundred.

So was it when my life began;

And I could wish my days to be

Behold what manner of love the father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God.—1 John 3:1.

THE BATTLESHIP

The presence of one of Uncle Sam's battleships, moored in the friendly waters of Rockland harbor, furnishes a picture not unfamiliar to this coastal region, for these mighty voyagers of the sea become known to us, one by one, as they make their maiden appearance upon this noted trial course. But the novelty never wears off, and in particular the heat of the on-looker leaps up as from the shore he studies the noble lines of the Marblehead, that representative of our naval forces sent here to grace a national holiday. He notes with satisfaction the revealed evidences of strength and efficiency that the craft presents, and with a rising tide of approval thinks upon the steps this country now is taking to set its navy upon a par with that of the other nations of the world. Not for aggression, he reflects, not in any bombastic spirit seeking to dominate the sailed waters of the globe, but with a gentlemanly desire to stand in that respect upon a fair equality with the other peoples whose navies navigate the seven seas. It is a natural and very pretty ambition, with which every real citizen of these United States finds himself in wholesome accord.

WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT (?)

As a somewhat modest sheet and perhaps not altogether representative of country journalism (a dignified term) this paper finds itself unsympathetic toward those ambitious exponents of the higher reportorial art, whose headlines roar at the world from the front pages. Not the size of the type, that is a matter of taste, but the deaths under horrible conditions, the crimes of entirely uninteresting citizens, the mawkish stories of the courtroom spread before you with an ebony coat of ink—to let yourself go in this riot of public and private grief is indeed to taste the sorrows of the unfortunate. No long time ago, day after day through week after week, we had served to us with elaborate detail the story of the men of the Needham killing. Now it is the tale of a young woman connected with that bloody episode, doubtless to be equally spun out. It's what our readers want, the newspapers declare, words similar to those put forth in justification of the studies at Hollywood.

GOLF AND THE PREACHER

Allusion was made in this column to the supreme golfing achievement of a hole in one registered by the Rev. Vincent E. Tomlinson of Worcester. Dr. Tomlinson, after reading the paragraph, drops a line to the editor: "I have been playing," he writes, "for about thirty-five years, and this is my first hole in one, which naturally gave me a great thrill. I endorse all you say about preachers getting out on the links with other men. I have made many fine friends in that way, and I am sure that it has helped to keep me well and vigorous. I am in the 35th year of my pastorate here." An admirable record for length of pastoral service and should by that much more recommend to clergymen the wisdom of grafting into their code of physical exercise this wholesome and fascinating game.

AS TO LOCAL HISTORY

Illustrating the interest in local historical matters, to which this paper has had frequent occasion to direct the attention of its readers, the following communication, dated at Woodbridge, Conn., and addressed to the editor, is offered:

"I knew Judge Frank B. Miller (the writer says) and now he is gone. He cannot give us any more information from his vast amount of knowledge. At various times you printed articles from him about the 'Soldiers and Sailors of Lower Saint Georges in the Revolutionary War,' afterwards issued in book form. I have a copy, but it does not tell enough. We want to know more. I have asked questions and searched records—the old York County records in Alfred and the old Lincoln County records in your Knox County courthouse; but I do not seem to find all I want.

"Who of your readers know about these matters? Who knows that General Waldo surveyed the land on the west side of Saint Georges River, from Thomaston to Hathorn's Point, into farms and sold what he could. At his death his son-in-law General Knox sold practically all the rest. Was there ever a map? If there was, where is it? There must be someone interested in this besides me, and I want to meet them. I have records I would be glad to show anyone interested, in hopes we could mutually help each other.

"If you will please print this and let me know it is printed it may help a number of us. Yours truly, Newton J. Peck

The general subject to which our correspondent directs his research has received no small attention at the hands of our local historians, but that much of its details remain yet to be brought to light is evident. These columns are at the service of

Down The Fairways

(By Jim Flanagan)

The local club course is in the finest condition it has enjoyed for many a moon and compares very favorably with any other course in the State. Ike Merrill, former State amateur champion, who has just returned from Florida, commented thus as he toured it for the first time Monday. The greens are fast and the club members are all out daily taking licks at Ole Man Par. The local pro, Jim Flanagan, was the first to place him in a groggy mood when he toured the nine-hole layout Thursday in a dazzling 68, two strokes above the record he established last year and which is still reigning supreme. Bill Glendenning had the aforesaid Ole Man a wee bit scary when he came through with a fine 38. E. C. Connelley coasted in with a 79 last week while playing a four-some which included the local pro. The club was sorry to have Arthur Richardson, a daily competitor upon its course, leave last week for England. The weekly handicap tournament was won by Bill Glendenning who christened his set of newly acquired golf clubs in royal style. Homer Robinson who has also purchased a new set of clubs is practicing daily and obtaining the feel of his sticks.

I'm glad the sky is painted blue; And the earth is painted green; And such a lot of nice fresh air All sandwiched in between.

The above poem describes the setting that Nature has given the local course. Although it does not picture the wonderful scenic view that comes before one's eyes as he gazes from the ninth tee out into the harbor there to witness the breakwater extending from its shores, the calmness of the deep blue sea, the beautiful majestic trees and the peaks of the distant islands on the horizon. A truly beautiful picture that an artist would envy.

Out of towners the past week who have indulged in the golf pastime were Dr. Anna Platt of New York and Miss Bamford also of the Gotham city.

The golf snapshots have been so popular that we add a few more. The nonchalant and modest manner of Rudolph Gilley who sinks a long putt on the ninth for a birdie three; Al Emery who had visions of a case of well known gingerale as he saw his ball disappear on the third hole only to find as he came upon the green that it was hidden behind the pin (a Rube Goldberg couldn't have pictured the expression upon Al's face); Doc Howard's facial expression as he four putted the seventh—even one of his patients would have had a tough time competing with Doc then—Poor Doc; the smile that beams upon the countenance of Doc Foss as he smacks one good and hard down the fairway; Louis Wardwell up to his old tricks by sinking a putt on the first for a birdie three; Bill Glendenning hugging his newly bought clubs fondly as he romps around the nine holes in a smart 38. Some game huh Bill? The amazement in Art Flanagan's face as he wallops a humdinger that travels over 250 yards only to have his big brudder Jimmy, the local pro, club one that lands ten yards farther.

A. C. McLoon and R. Sorrent tied for first honors Saturday in the handicap tourney—McLoon put together 43-44 for a snappy 87. Sorrent had a 45-42. L. E. McRae is fast rounding into form, playing his second time "Link" put together 41-42 for a gross score 83. So boys take warning of that jigger—that L. E. carries in that golf bag. The pro predicts a great season for Link and his jigger.

STRAND THEATRE

"The Witching Hour" comes Friday. The play tells the story of a boy, Clay Thorne, played by Tom Brown and his love for Nancy Brookfield, played by Judith Allen. Thorne has a peculiar complex, an aversion to cat's eyes a phobia that drives him to an emotional and mental hysteria. While under a hypnotic influence induced by one of these semi-precious jewels, he commits a fantastic crime, without being conscious of what has happened. No one will defend him. An old love returns to save his romance, however. Judge Prentice, a retired jurist, is persuaded to return from the past and his memories to save the boy. In a dramatic, tense scene, for which the play is famous, a fantastic defense is used to save the boy from the crime he committed. Frank Buck's newest exploits plunge him into the jungles of Java, Sumatra, Ceylon, India and Malaya. As the film depicts, he has his big moments in capturing alive tigers, rhinoceros, monkeys, man-eating tigers, death-dealing pythons and cobras, flying foxes, hornbills, cassowaries, clouded leopards and an orang-outang. Buck's "Wild Cargo" is said to embrace almost the whole glossary of zoology, and run the gamut of thrills. It will be shown Saturday—adv.

BASEBALL IS BOOMING

St. George Dedicates Remodeled Park With Victory—Tars and Collegians Tonight

St. George 5, Waldoboro 4. Knox County baseball fans could not reasonably ask for a better Twilight League contest than was afforded by this game at St. George Tuesday night. Waldoboro, with a two-run lead, pointed the way until the sixth inning when the home team, depositing all its eggs in one basket, crossed the plate five times. Waldoboro scored two more in the eighth, but the feat had been accomplished.

The game gave the fans a chance to look over St. George's remodeled ball park. A fine grandstand has been erected where the third base bleachers formerly stood, and to it, for the time being a 10 cent admission fee will be charged, as the expense was guaranteed by the Association. The diamond has been twisted around so that the pitcher faces the grandstand. The whole field has been leveled and rolled, and the old building which stood back of the first base line is no longer an unsightly blot on the landscape. St. George now has one of the best ball parks in Eastern Maine and it is a pleasure to watch a game there. Among the spectators was Deacon Henry Kallioch, 93, who did not miss the game last season. By the time he reaches a hundred he will be quite a fan. And everybody certainly hopes he will.

Goggin pitched a fine game for Waldoboro, fanning 13 batters, but was a bit wild at times and certainly had his troubles in that fatal sixth when he passed three men and was touched up for a total of six bases. That assault was led by Ricker, who in addition to pitching excellently started the parade with a double. Maurice Simmons was the hero of the moment when he made his long three-sacker, clearing the bases. Ivan Simmons' single sent him home with the winning run.

Waldoboro on the high road to victory in the seventh inning, saw its hopes dashed with that marvelous throw which Monahan made from center field directly into Westberg's hands retiring Kuhn at the plate. Monahan had eight chances in this game and handled them all to the delight of the fans. M. Simmons accepted all of his nine chances at short.

The Collegians will face the U. S. S. Marblehead team at 6 o'clock tonight at Community Park in the first game the sailors are to play in Knox County. They will be in action at St. George Saturday, plan to play at Camden Monday and on Wednesday they will wind up their schedule here when they clash with the Texacos.

The Collegians are bringing a real baseball attraction to this city Sunday when they face Togus, at Community Park at 2:30. The local management is extremely fortunate in having the Home team away from the Togus lot as this is the second game that it has played on the road on a Sunday in its history.

Togus has a strong array of stars with Doc Doherty, Normie Merrill, Jones, Ceddie Simpson, Vic Gougher, Left Giroux and Taylor heading the list. Manager Cloutier is forwarding his lineup which will be released in Saturday's issue of this paper. Undoubtedly Chummy Gray will be nominated to take the mound for the home team. The Collegians will go on with the hardest schedule that has been booked by a local club for some time when they journey to Portland to tackle Titus Drug at the Stadium a week from Sunday. The return game at Togus will be played July 22.

Thomaston 12, Camden 3

Douglas Walker, the Young Thomaston speed merchant pitched six innings at Community Park last night, and held Camden to two singles. M. Sawyer, who relieved him, was almost equally effective, so that Camden's blows were limited to five singles. Greenlaw had a bad night and even errors were made off him in 4-1-3 innings. The veteran George Boynton, with no warming up, finished the game, but Thomaston continued to score in every inning except the last.

Camden played in ill luck, not getting a break from start to finish. Lucky Ed Grafton was the batting star his hits aggregating seven bases. Gatti's triple, was however, the feature crack.

Manager Thomas' comedy enlivened the game.

"ON MY SET"

The mystery of the chimera, which several local radio fans heard after Monday morning's thunder shower has been explained. The strains came from Winslow-Holbrook Post's calope which was being hustled to Bangor to take part in the Forty and Eight and American Legion parades. But who in this wide world would have expected to hear a steam calope at 2:30 or 3 a. m.?

"Historic Anniversaries" is the subject of the D.A.R. broadcast tomorrow at 4 p. m. over WHEB by Mrs. William Smith Shaw. This is the last of a series sponsored by the Maine State D.A.R.

Radio listeners had a great thrill from 11 to 12 Tuesday forenoon when they heard the WLBZ broadcast of the big American Legion parade. And it was with a thrill of pride that they heard the announcer praising Winslow-Holbrook Post.

"DON'T YOU EVER RUN OUT OF ICE CUBES?"

"YOU MUST BE THINKING OF OLD-FASHIONED ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS..."

Ours is a Frigidaire '34"

Big, husky ice cubes—120 of them at one freezing, in the model shown above. But that's only one reason why everyone is talking about the Frigidaire '34.

To begin with, it has automatic ice tray release . . . the trays slide from the freezer at a finger touch! And automatic defrosting . . . it turns itself on when defrosting is completed! Then, there are models with Lifetime Porcelain inside and out . . . double Hydrator capacity . . . much greater food space . . . the Sliding Utility Basket . . . the Frigidaire Servashelf . . . interior lighting . . . extra space for tall bottles . . . and—come in, won't you? . . . That, really, is the best way to see just what's happened in electric refrigeration; to learn just why people are proudly saying, "Ours is a Frigidaire '34."

A man who believed he knew all about parrots undertook to teach what he thought to be a young mute bird to say "Hello!" in one session. Going up to the cage he repeated that word in a clear voice for several minutes, the parrot paying not the slightest attention. At the final "Hello" the bird opened one eye, gazed at the man, and snapped out, "Line's busy!"—Boston Transcript.

Ralph Ulmer Camp served supper Wednesday with M. S. Dick and H. W. Thorndike in charge. The Camp and Auxiliary had business meetings at 7:30.

Mrs. Lloyd N. Benner of Waldoboro, formerly of this city, was elected vice president of the Waldoboro Parent-Teacher Association at its meeting last week.

Among the sophomores at Bowdoin College who may take six cuts in each subject during the first semester, having received half "A's" and half "B's" in every subject, appears the name of Paul A. Jones of Union.

At the annual meeting of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents' Association at Poland Spring, Killie E. Terry of Westbrook, associated with S. W. Warren Co. since 1910, was elected president. Mr. Terry is the first Maine man to be chosen to head this large organization.

Judge E. K. Gould left yesterday to attend the triennial convocation of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar at San Francisco. The party will be gone 20 days, and the trip will include stops at many places going and coming, among them the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago. Judge Gould expects to be at home July 21.

Barber Elwell, who is skilled with the paint brush as well as the latter brush, has been doing some artistic decorative work in his shop this week. The color scheme is pea green. Lots of suggestions and criticisms were offered—mostly of a non-constructive nature however. One helpful individual wanted Irving to array himself in a pea green uniform.

Matchmaker Hamlin is assembling some excellent talent for his show at Belfast Opera House next Monday night, but the topline acts ought to be sufficient, alone, to draw a big crowd. They are Young Jovin vs. Young Audet and Walter Reynolds vs. Young Sylvio. Primo Pietroski and Jabber Hastings are the other Rockland boys who will be seen on the big bill.

The committee in charge of the strawberry festival to be held on the lawn of Grand Army hall Saturday afternoon and evening is working earnestly to have the affair a successful one from every standpoint. There will be tables and chairs on the lawn, music under the direction of Mrs. Emma Harvie, and dance features by pupils of Elsie Allen Corner, and in the evening bright lights will transform the place into fairyland. Serving will begin at 2 p. m.

There will be an informal gathering at the First Baptist Church at 7:30 o'clock this Thursday evening, to greet a former pastor of the church, Rev. Robert W. Van Kirk, now of California, who accompanied by his son Gordon is revisiting scenes of the past among them Rockland. He desires in particular to shake hands with former parishioners, and such as can do so are desired to be present at this evening meeting. The invitation includes all present church members as well as citizens generally.

It is expected that wrestling fans from all sections of Maine will gather at Soldiers' Field, Togus, Sunday afternoon, when perhaps the finest array of wrestling talent ever to be assembled on one program in the State of Maine will be presented under the sponsorship of the Togus Athletic Association. The main bout will find Henri Deglane, former world's champion, meeting Andy Brown, known as the New York Hercules, wrestling two out of three falls to a finish. Henri Deglane, the ex-champion, needs no introduction to wrestling fans in this state. Beginning with the winning of the Graeco-Roman championship at the Olympics in 1926, when he turned professional, Deglane's career has been most spectacular.

The weather man is promising cloudless skies for Knox Hospital benefit at The Samoset Friday. Cards will be at 2 p. m., and tea will be served. Individual players will be taken care of, in case last minute players wish to attend. Ladies are also invited to take their sewing. For those who have reservations dinner will be at 8, and the evening will be given over to dancing. The hotel orchestra, one of the best in many sections, will provide music. At intermission a short entertainment will be given, featuring Miss Beatrice Haskell of Warren in violin selections, Mrs. Helen Wentworth in popular songs and Elsie Allen Corner in a solo dance. Every effort is being put forth by the committee in charge—Mrs. John Newman, Mrs. A. Tirrell, Mrs. Wentworth and Mrs. Alan L. Bird, to have the affair an enormous success financially and socially. The rare opportunity to have the beautiful hotel as the setting, in addition to the many courtesies being extended by Manager Scott, should attract a large gathering.

EMERY-MORAN

A quiet wedding ceremony took place at the Baptist parsonage last Saturday afternoon when Harriet Moran and Richard Emery stole a march on their friends. According to plans the affair was to take place later in the month but the young couple took the matter in their own hands and when Miss Moran went out to lunch Saturday night she met Mr. Emery and they went quietly to the Baptist parsonage where Rev. J. MacDonald performed the ceremony.

She resumed her duties after the ceremony, but during the evening the news leaked out and the serenaders were awaiting the couple when the store closed at night. Evading the pursuers they escaped by a rear door and went to Thomaston and spent the remainder of the night undiscovered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Young, returning to Rockland Sunday.

Harriet Virginia Moran is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Moran, and a graduate of the class of 1931 R.H.S. and has since been employed at the store of J. J. Newberry Co. Richard Lawrence Emery, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Emery, is employed at Swift and Co.

The single ring service was used. The couple will reside at 67 Park street where there is a welcome sign on the door for the many friends of this popular young couple who are receiving congratulations from all sides.

A street parade of large proportions will take place at 8 o'clock, leaving Central Fire Station, proceeding south to General Berry Square, thence north to Rankin Block. The fire departments of Camden, Rockport and Thomaston will join the local fire laddies with apparatus from all places. It is hoped that the new uniforms may be here in season for the parade. Winslow-Holbrook's snappy drum corps will head the procession and the celebrated Legion callopie will conclude it.

There was another bee story in the air yesterday when quite a good sized squad of the honeybees settled down upon the residence of John J. Wardwell at 27 Fulton street. Another S.O.S. call was sent for Earle Ludwick, but he was in Camden on official business, and when he returned most of the bees had spread their wings for another flight. A year ago bees found their way into Mr. Wardwell's house and concocted a batch of honey. The owner who didn't relish renting his apartment to such tenants tried everything but tear gas before they took the hint. It is now up to Doc Frohock and Johnny Wardwell to hold a reunion.

THUMB JERKERS

Before you decide to pick up the chap with the wigwagging thumb it might be well to consider the following points:

1. If you have an accident in which he is injured you may have to foot the bill, and you can rest assured it will be a whopper. He may sue you for real or faked injuries and get a nice fat verdict. That often happens when one tries to be kind to a hitch-hiker.

2. Or he may turn out to be a thug, in which case you may be robbed of your valuables, your car, and possibly your life. Holdups by thumb jerkers are extremely common, and not infrequently they have committed murder. You can never tell about their real intentions.

It is all right to be big-hearted and all that, and doubtless a friendly lift is a great help, but the trouble is that the milk of human kindness isn't always appreciated. The safe way is to ignore hitch-hikers, for by their actions they have killed the goose that laid the golden egg.—Tom A. Burke.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes about good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle bowels extracts, and making it so easy to make the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of a substitute 25-cent drug store, 6191 C. M. Co.

BLESSED RELIEF FOR FIERY PILES
Don't treat your piles with harsh patent medicines or so-called "piles-cures." Ask your druggist for a tube of Humfrey's Witch Hazel Pile Ointment, made by Humfrey's Medicine Company, whose Witch Hazel Pile Ointment and other remedies have been prized by the medical profession for over 50 years. Humfrey's Witch Hazel Pile Ointment gives blessed relief, quickly, to burning, bleeding, itching, swelling, bulging piles and helps to prevent infection. It goes into the rectum softly and with each tube, 50 cents—no more. Ask your druggist for Humfrey's Witch Hazel Pile Ointment and be sure you get Humfrey's, Tubes 50c. Also in jars—50c.

"I WENT 51% FURTHER ON GULF-LUBE"

Says Mrs. Lee Ketner, Winston-Salem, N. C., Who Made The "Two Trip" Test

"I DROVE FROM WINSTON-SALEM TO WASHINGTON USING MY REGULAR 25c MOTOR OIL—AND HAD TO ADD A QUART AT RICHMOND."

"TWO WEEKS LATER I REPEATED THE TRIP AGAIN. THIS TIME I USED GULF-LUBE—AND DIDN'T NEED A QUART UNTIL I GOT TO WASHINGTON."

"Gulf-lube outlasted my regular 25c motor oil by 115 miles—it went 51% further before a quart was consumed!"

Thanks, Mrs. Ketner. You're one of thousands of motorists who have cut their oil costs with Gulf-lube—the oil that was tested by the American Automobile Association in 6 average cars—and out-lasted every oil in every car!

Start saving! Switch to Gulf-lube now. You'll buy less oil between fillings. You'll get better, smoother lubrication. At 25c a quart Gulf-lube is America's biggest motor oil value. At all Gulf stations.

NEW OIL TEST detects motor dirt. Ask about it at any Gulf station.

Success May Depend on Your Food!

How fast you go ahead in the world, how much money you make, depends very largely on how wise you are about your choice of food.

If you're tired out by 11:30, if you're dull after lunch, if hot weather gets you, it's probably because you just haven't learned to eat the right things.

It's very simple, too. Try eating one meal a day of Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit. This happy combination will make almost any one more alert, full of pep, and efficient. It gives your body, in concentrated, easily digested and delicious form, what it needs for nourishment, tissue building, resistance to disease, and it contains bran to keep you regular.

Shredded Wheat is whole wheat—one of Nature's best foods—boiled and baked.

ROCKLAND LIONS

Dr. Dana Newman Is Installed As President of the Club

Al Elliot, king lion of the Rockland Lions Club, went out of office yesterday in a blaze of glory, the rafters of the Thorndike dining room ringing with the applause which followed a member's tribute to the splendid comeback which the club has made during his administration.

The new officers named in this paper recently were installed by District Governor Maurice C. Orbeton of Bangor, who is also retiring from office very shortly. The new president of the organization is Dr. Dana Newman, a popular member whose attendance record has been an exceptionally fine one since he joined.

Elliot's sphere of usefulness will be continued in the office of secretary, as he succeeds A. E. Brunberg, advanced to a vice presidency.

Five new members were admitted yesterday—L. Leslie Cross, Wilbur Senter, Al Plourd, Al Marchand and Walter Kimball. They were put through a wild course of sprouts after listening to an excellent talk by District Governor Orbeton. It is said that three more members are awaiting admission at the next meeting, two weeks hence. There will be no meeting next Wednesday on account of the holiday. The club voted to set aside $25 toward defraying the expenses of King Lion Newman, who is to attend the international convention in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Rockport Flower Club Lands At Varnah Brook Beach—The Winners

The gods of the sea and the storms being propitious, as the captain had predicted they would be, the members of the Flower Club of Rockport, High School boarded a motor-launch at Lane's wharf Thursday afternoon—destination unknown.

While various ones among the group were speculating with regard to probable landing-places—Sherman's Point, Mark Island, and whereto—the boat was scudding along, making the gap between Beauchamp Point and Indian Island, passing the estates of summer residents, later gliding in by Negro Island, and entering Camden harbor with its yachts and racing boats—blues and reds and greens—its terrace along the shore, and its mountain background—a picture long to be remembered.

The return trip proved to be full of excitement. Hardly had the captain commenced to steer a southerly westerly course when Neptune in playful mood began to toss up huge waves, and this added to the merriment of the party.

The boat came to anchor near Varnah Brook Beach. Everybody ashore, a weenie roast was prepared for whetted appetites. In many ways the members of the club exhibited their skill. Brainerd Thurston as mate, fireman, boatman, and geologist; Mona Stahl as star helmsman; Roberta Nutt as rival of the squirrels in climbing trees (in her case, to pay forfeits); and Mary Tolman as master in the art of "cutting a dead man's throat" (throwing a rock into the water without making a splash). Others who attended the picnic were Catherine Annis, Marguerite Buzzell, Irja Hill, Barbara Noyes, Ruth Orbeton, Josephine Tolman, and Flora Weiman, with their leader, Miss Elsie Lane and Captain George Lane who offered his services and boat for the occasion. Everybody enjoyed the outing, particularly the sail home by moonlight. As always, there were the casualties. Lost overboard: One coat, one bathing suit and one ship's lantern, the first two named being rescued with a boat-hook, but the lantern going to the watery depths, presumably to light the domain of the sea nymphs. A wild-flower contest in the club explains the why of the picnic, at which the winners who called themselves the Wild Gingers were entertained by their opponents who were known as the Pussy Toes. The contest closed June 1. Individual winners of prizes were: Josephine Tolman of the Wild Gingers, 102 varieties; and Mary Tolman of the Pussy Toes, 96 varieties. Competition was lively, for Mary Cavanaugh, a close third, knew where and when to look for nearly every wild flower that grows.

The Flower Club developed from an interest which certain students of the biology class showed in wild plants and their habitats. Not only did the young naturalists search the fields and woods for specimens, but they even explored the swamps near Maces Pond and there found the nodding reddish blossoms of the carnivorous pitcher plant (Sarracenia purpurea).

A recent speaker before a woman's organization, talking on Persia, was telling about how careless the men over there are with their wives, and said it was no uncommon sight to see a woman and donkey hitched up together. Then he laughed, and said when he made that statement in a speech at Detroit one of the ladies in the audience piped up: "That's not so unusual—you often see it over here too." Cincinnati Enquirer.

BIG FIVE LEAGUE

The Pirates spotted the Dragons an eight-run lead at Community Park Tuesday night and the Dragons behind to win 10 to 9. It was the first time the Pirates ever defeated the Dragons or Blin Hunt. The standing:

Pirates 10, Dragons 9

After throwing in five errors to give the Dragons five runs and a 9 to 1 lead in the fourth inning, the Rockland Pirates came back strong to hang up a 10 to 9 victory over Blin Hunt, their pet jinx, at Community Park Tuesday night. Picking up one run each in the fourth and fifth, the winners shot a bolt that totaled five runs in the seventh and put on the finishing touches with two runs in the ninth. Ayotte started the Pirates off in their big seventh when he muffed Thomas' line drive, whereupon Henry Gardner slammed a triple to left center. Karl Mosher, Merrill and Day quickly followed with singles to put the pirates within one run of a tie. An error also put Mosher in position to score the tying tally in the ninth. Winchesterbath sent a one shot into right field to tie the count and after stealing second, scored the winning run when Merrill sent a single through the same spot. Bob Gardner held the losers to four hits and no runs after that disastrous fourth and in the ninth, with Dragons on second and third with none out he whiffed two and forced the other to pop to Thomas. ## SCIENCE WONDER STORIES

Bullets That Drill Holes

INDOOR .22-caliber rifle shooters know that putting bullets into a bull's-eye is one thing, but the usual conical-nose bullet makes such a jagged hole that it also is difficult to score the result when two or more bullets strike a paper target close together.

Ballistic engineers have now overcome these difficulties of scoring by developing the sharp-shoulder bullet which makes a clean round hole.

The nose of the bullet is practically flat, while the shoulder is sharp. The result is that when the bullet strikes the target, spinning at a rapid rate, the sharp shoulder literally drills a hole. The shell is brass and a special smokeless powder and a non-corrosive priming are used. This permits the firing of thousands of shots without affecting the accuracy of a rifle and without need for cleaning the bore.

This special cartridge is a .22 long rifle type for indoor target shooting up to 25 yards. It is used only in single-shot firearms.

Flowing Cold
WORKS LIKE MAGIC

ONLY COOLER THAT MAINTAINS CONSTANT WATER LEVEL
COOLS MILK TO 50° IN 60 MINUTES

Here's a milk cooler different from any ever built. It gives you results you can't get with any other type of cooler because it's the only cooler made that maintains a constant water level, no matter whether you put in one can of milk or fill it full. The mechanically refrigerated water is always up around the neck of the can above the milk line. It circulates constantly from one end of the cooler to the other and from top to bottom. The necks of the cans are as cold as the bottoms. That's why it draws the heat out of every drop of milk so quickly—from body heat down to 50° in about an hour. Because of this quick cooling and because the milk stays cool, bacteria count is cut way down.

PLANT PERSONALITY

Rockland Garden Club Hears a Fascinating Paper By Miss Coughlin

The meeting of the Garden Club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Berry brought out a large gathering of members who were privileged to hear Miss Anna Coughlin in an instructive and entertaining talk. Introducing her subject "The Personality of Plants," Miss Coughlin said that her paper would be a few observations from a "lover of life." She began by telling of experiments conducted by scientists and naturalists pertaining to the breeding of plants, maize cited as one example as well as results from the inbreeding of two varieties of flowering sweet peas from experiments carried on by Mendel more than 70 years ago. She told of the battle which is being carried on against the water hyacinth which in its spread in the tidal waters of the south has challenged the United States government already to the tune of more than a million dollars, in its effort to stamp it out; but the victory is still with the water hyacinth. A peculiar personality is possessed by the "sensitive" plant, the sundew, rather rare. It has leaves covered with delicate feelers which fold around insects, and even small pieces of raw meat which human hands may place there, and after sucking the life and nutriment therefrom casts the shells away. It seizes pieces of paper, twigs or stones. Then there is the dodder plant, a criminal personality, without leaves or root, yet twining itself around its victim and choking out life. In these examples Miss Coughlin showed that plants have personalities to compare with the human race—puny, weak, compelling, uplifting, criminal, inspirational, etc.

Many interesting things were told of fertilization and pollenization in plant life, the milkweed, of which she had an exquisite spray with her, being used as a definite example of the cleverness of nature in carrying on in the plan of life. The value of bees in the process of pollenization was enlarged upon. It is claimed that if bees were exterminated, half the flowers of the world would die. "If such a thing came to pass, it would be a sad day for the world!" was Miss Coughlin's comment at this point. While bees are the main adjunct in carrying on pollenization, the jewel weed can only be pollenized by the hummingbird. She spoke of the pink jewel weed which grows on the brink of the brook running near St. Peter's Church.

Miss Coughlin gave vivid pictures of the wide travels over land and sea some of our faithful friends in plant life have survived. Tansy, mullein and burdock were brought over from England by the pioneers, brought along because of their curative powers. Mullein is known by more than 40 different names, and still flourishing in England it is known there as the "velvet flower." Among other "immigrants" are butter and eggs, chichory, and bluebells. In telling of plants having no desire to roam but which remain faithful and loving long after their first owners have passed on, she spoke particularly of the lilac, calling to mind trees in a riot of bloom seen on the site of some deserted farm on a lonely country road. At this point Miss Coughlin read some gems of poetry from well known writers who have been inspired by the lilac. Some flowers on the other hand are short lived after their owners depart. It is said that the primrose is a vivid example of this—its life is snuffed out almost at once after being forsaken.

Miss Coughlin told how flowers have become a part of countries and their people, entwined in their very life speaking of the lily of France, the shamrock of Ireland, and the cornflower of Germany.

Mrs. Joseph Emery gave an interesting account of the progress on the development of the garden on the Knox Hospital grounds. In addition to seedlings, etc., given by members of the committee doing this work, 40 persons have given seedlings and plants, three have given seeds, and there have been gifts of money from several. Mrs. Emery spoke of us at the curves was that large black and white checkerboard, which the Province folks evidently find to be an effective warning to motorists who are possessed with a desire to beat the train.

A steel bridge spans a deep chasm—not so impressive as Au Sable in upper New York State—but well worth the fleeting glance which we bestowed upon it.

Recessing the St. John's River to reach our Woodstock destination we found our rolling over a ten-span bridge, half a mile long, and built upon granite piers. Good old granite!

And in Woodstock we find the culmination of our dreams—a substantial breakfast of bacon and eggs. The restaurant has just been opened and most of last night's dishes are still "in the sink." But the man in charge was very obliging and promptly set about his task of saving two lives. And if you don't think that bacon and eggs tastes good after a ride of 300 miles, or more, just try it.

Home Of the Late "Arnie" Jones

Woodstock was our objective for a purely sentimental reason. Here was the home town of one of the dearest friends I ever had—the late Arnold H. Jones, who was not merely one of my "bosses" on The Courier-Gazette, but my friend in all that the word implies. Employed by the Woodstock Sentinel, "Arnie" Jones learned all of the various phases of what the city folks are pleased to call a country newspaper. He set type from the case, he read the proof, he wrote news items for the paper, he ran the press and he appeared indignant subscribers who had their middle letter printed wrong.

The few citizens who were up and about at this hour were questioned about him. Yes, indeed they knew Arnie Jones, and I learned that one of his relatives was the present mayor of Woodstock.

It was a bit early, still to be paying one's respects to the mayor of a city, especially in the Province, where the formality is quite to the contrary of American informality, but we went to his residence, personally escorted by our kind restaurant friend, who dropped all other duties in order to be accommodating.

Mayor Jones had just arisen, and had not yet breakfasted, but he was immediately genial and courteous when I told him I was, where I was from, and my long association with A. H. Jones, who had served as mayor of Rockland.

Another Mayor Jones

From him I learned that Woodstock is a city of 3500 population, and has an annual budget of something above $100,000. It has had a town manager since 1919, and according to Mayor Jones, the system was very successful. The City Government is vested in the mayor and six councilors. Mayor Jones had previously served two years as alderman.

Must have lots of money down there in Woodstock, for I saw three large banks—the Bank of Montreal, the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Royal Bank of Canada.

The Canadian government controls the sale of liquor in Woodstock, the one dispensary being open from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., except on Saturdays when it closes half an hour earlier. Obviously it is the only liquor shop in the city, but the man who was telling me about it had a twinkle in his eye.

We left Woodstock at 8:50 a. m., headed for Houlton. Between Woodstock and Smyrna Mills there was a sign which read "New Moon." The insignia represented a very wet moon, as we say in the weather reports.

Richmond Corner next, and presently we reach the U. S. boundary line, noting in the passage that quite a few of the farmers have rail fences like the custom in Quebec, where they are thicker than black flies at Branch Brook in fishing season.

And from one high ridge can be obtained a far flung view of many mountain peaks, although perhaps not the 147 that Mrs. Brook Cross tells me can be seen from an elevation in the town of Stratton.

British and American flags mingle at the two customs stations.

Home By Another Route

Homeward bound we left Houlton at 9:25 a. m., taking a different route than that which we had employed on our journey northward. First we came to Amity, which leads me to wonder if anybody from here has ever fished Greenleaf brook. Log cabins are in fine favor in this vicinity, one being surrounded by a miniature picket fence and approached by a rustic bridge.

Grand Lake, viewed from a high elevation is a spectacle not soon to be forgotten. Rightly named is this beautiful body of water.

Danforth, where I had breakfasted on the occasion of a previous visit to Aroostook County is responsible for a brief stop while Ed makes a vain search for an acquaintance. There I notice a sign which reads "J. C. Panich." Let us hope he was not named because of the depression.

Through Lee and Springfield, and once more we are in Lincoln, having encompassed an area of land on which I should dislike to pay taxes.

Old Friend in Winterport

The retracing of our path left little to write about, but in passing through Winterport I saw a familiar countenance and we backed up our car to receive a most cordial greeting from George A. Nash former Rockland boy who was for many years a steward on boats of the Eastern Steamship Co. Sorry I didn't think to ask him about the old roller polo days when he played in the Arcade.

George pointed out the home of Thomas Birmingham, whose name is also familiar in connection with the Boston and Bangor boats. His sister Miss Mary Birmingham, who is one of my excellent neighbors, is a frequent visitor at her old homestead.

We passed a motor car which bore the number 6666—a number to conjure with if one is playing that venerable American game of hankypark.

Sunday at 4 p. m. found us back home, with the "Chevy" register showing 538 miles covered in 20 hours, during which our eyes were strangers to sleep. Some folks might not see any fun in that, but what matters so long as we did?

(The End)

TWO OLD BANDS

One Flourished In Rockland 36 Years Ago, One 29 Years Ago

Rockland and vicinity have seldom known without the services of a brass band, and always it was a good one. A reminder of these musical periods was afforded Thursday when "Lou" Young of Ingersham Hill triumphant, to have into this office two old-time photographs.

One of them lacked only two years of having been taken four decades ago—1896, to be exact. It represented the Ingersham Hill Band, which was then under the leadership of Robert Clark, although for some reason he did not figure in the group picture. Those who did face the camera were Arthur J. Clark, snare drum; Roy Smith, alto; L. M. Hovey, bass; Ned Robbins, baritone; Lowell Chapman, trombone; Forrest Kar' (carried bass drum); Fred Eastman, trombone; Wesley Roles, alto; Charles Montgomery, cornet; Luther Clark, clarinet; George Everett, cornet.

The other photograph made in 1905, immortalized the Military Band directed by the late Arthur W. Hall. Shown in the picture were these musicians: James Hanley bass drum;

REDUCED PRICES

without reduced value

THE only change in the Ford V-8 is the change in price. Lower price does not mean any difference in basic material or in engineering—Ford has only one standard.

There is only one Ford V-8 car chassis. It gives you a full 112" wheelbase. It is a powerful car—developing a generous 85 horsepower. It has the only V-8 engine in a car selling for less than $2500.

Despite its bigness, its roominess and its power, the new Ford V-8 is the most economical car Ford has ever built. You save money on gas and oil every mile you drive.

Examine the new Ford V-8. Look at costly cars. The more high-priced cars you inspect, the more Ford V-8 features you will see.

Every Conceivable Force WORKED TO TEAR THESE TIRES TO PIECES

But NOT ONE CORD LOOSENED! NOT ONE TREAD SEPARATED! Not one Blowout!

As thirty-three speed demons careened and slid around the steep banked curves of the hot brick track, tires shrieked and smoked...break-neck speeds, 150 miles and more down the straightaway—tremendous centrifugal force tugging to rip the tread from the body of the tire. In fact, every conceivable force worked to tear the tire to pieces, but not one cord loosened—not one tread separated—and not a single blowout. What amazing proof of Tire Strength—Safety—Quality and Dependability.

Every one of the thirty-three drivers at the Indianapolis 500-mile sweepstakes chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. The fact that not one of the 132 tires failed is your greatest guarantee of the Extra Safety—Strength—and Dependability built into Firestone Tires.

The New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is Safety-Protected on the outside by a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage—Safety-Protected on the inside by eight additional pounds of pure rubber absorbed by every 100 pounds of cords. This additional rubber surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply. This is accomplished by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.
